City and Islington College

London's leading College is looking for an exceptional Engineering Lecturer to join its friendly team at the Centre for Applied Sciences in the Angel.

City & Islington College is a successful further education college based in the London Borough of Islington, delivering a wide range of academic and vocational courses. The college has five centres and enrolls over 11,000 students, including 4,500 16-18 year olds.

City and Islington College is a learning environment like no other. The College is a leader in its field and has been honoured with many prizes and awards. If you want to stretch your own talents in a supportive environment with continuous staff training and development then City and Islington College could be the place for you.

We celebrate the diversity of our students and staff and work hard to ensure an environment where everyone is treated with dignity and respect. As London's leading college our commitment to equality and diversity will help ensure we are the first choice for students, staff, employers and partners.

About the role:

The role will be based in the Engineering Department in the Centre for Applied Sciences on our Angel campus. The Centre for Applied Science at Angel delivers a unique range of advanced and higher science courses and apprenticeships in Lab Science and Vet Nursing to 1100 students a year.

We are looking to appoint a full-time permanent Engineering Lecturer to teach on level 3 RQF and QCF BTEC courses and act as a course tutor as required by the Curriculum Leader for Engineering.

The main duties will include teaching and assessing BTEC Engineering subjects (e.g. Design and Manufacturing, Special Project, Primary Forming, Health and Safety and others) up to Level 3.

About you:

You will hold an Honours Degree in an Engineering related subject with demonstrable experience of teaching engineering qualifications. You will also hold, or be willing to obtain a recognised teaching qualification. You will be used to maintaining professional and quality standards, and keeping high quality documentation.

Closing date: 7th July 2019
