We are now seeking to recruit an enthusiastic Teacher of Plumbing and Gas to take up a teaching post working within our outstanding learning facilities at the Roundhouse site; delivering to the current and future workforce. We have high ambition for what we want to achieve with learners and employers in this vital sector. If you have a passion for plumbing and gas and are relentless in your pursuit of quality, then we want to hear from you. We are looking for the right candidate to join our growing team and help us to realise our ambitious plans across the department.

This is a fantastic opportunity to work for a leading College, to pass on your specialist knowledge and to prepare our students for the next phase of their lives.

Candidates must hold level 3 or Advanced Craft in plumbing and have 5 years post qualification experience.

Previous experience of teaching would be preferred and assessor qualifications are desirable. Experience and qualifications in gas would be an advantage. This role is also open to candidates with ambitions to develop their career from a skilled tradesman to professional status. We will develop and support the right candidate to achieve full teacher and assessor qualifications.
